Item 4. Services, Fees and Compensation

Capital Asset Advisory Services, LLC is an SEC-registered investment adviser with its principal place of business located in Michigan. Capital Asset Advisory Services, LLC. (“CAAS”) began conducting business in 2004.

Listed below are the firm's principal shareholders (i.e., those individuals and/or entities controlling 25% or more of this company).

Anthony Joseph Mazzali, Managing Member

We offer our Clients a package of supervisory investment management discretionary and non-discretionary advisory services that includes brokerage, custody, financial planning, administration, fee billing, and reporting, where Client assets are held at unaffiliated qualified banking institutions established through direct Client negotiated arrangements with the banking institution. Portfolio management is provided through a Client selected model of predetermined investments designed to meet our Clients’ financial plan investment objectives and needs. All models are constructed, managed, and maintained by CAAS, including separately customized models constructed by independent representatives for a limited number of Clients who do not select one of the models more fully described below. We maintain all models on our systems, software, and technology, some of which is provided to us, in part, from custodians where Client assets are held, that is used to deliver a total package of investment advisory and related services to our Clients, collectively referred to as the Managed Client Account Platform (“MCAP” or the “Platform”).

Our fees for Platform services include an advisory fee and an administrative fee, as set forth in the Fees section below.

WealthMark, WealthMark II, and WealthBuilder Model Program Accounts (“Program Accounts”)

We assist our Clients in determining investment goals and objectives, risk tolerance, and retirement plan time horizon often contained in a financial plan or investment policy statement. Based on this information, we create an initial portfolio allocation designed to complement a Client’s educational, home ownership, and retirement goals and objectives. We also recommend investing in more than one of our model portfolios if suitable, depending on risk threshold and other factors mentioned immediately above.

The WealthMark Program Accounts consist of the WealthMark, WealthMark II, and WealthBuilder models (the “Account”), which are discretionary advisory accounts. This means that the Client authorizes the Adviser to buy, sell, or otherwise trade securities or other investments in the Account without discussing the transactions with the Client in advance. The model securities are limited to open-end mutual funds and exchange-traded funds (“ETFs”). Securities selection in WealthMark program allocations fall into two groups. Portfolios including positions with higher minimum investment requirements are called “WealthMark Portfolios”; portfolios including mutual funds with lower minimum investments are called “WealthBuilder Portfolios.” The WealthMark program includes an allocation to Dimensional Fund Adviser Products, as well as other model alternative investments. The WealthMark II program does not use Dimensional Funds Adviser Products or alternative investments. Our investment policy committee manages all WealthMark, WealthMark II, and WealthBuilder portfolios on a discretionary basis.

Clients have the option to select from among the following Program Accounts:

Wealthbuilder Conservative • Wealthbuilder Moderate Conservative • Wealthbuilder Moderate • Wealthbuilder Moderate Aggressive • Wealthbuilder Aggressive • WealthMark Conservative • WealthMark Moderate Conservative • WealthMark Moderate • WealthMark Moderate Aggressive • WealthMark Aggressive • WealthMark II Conservative • WealthMark II Moderate Conservative • WealthMark II Moderate • WealthMark II Moderate Aggressive • WealthMark II Aggressive • WealthMark Income Only • WealthMark Income with Growth • WealthMark Michigan Municipal Income • WealthMark Missouri Municipal Income • WealthMark Municipal Income • WealthMark NonQualified Moderate Conservative • WealthMark NonQualified Moderate • WealthMark NonQualified Moderate Aggressive • WealthMark Tactical

The WealthMark Tactical Program Account is based on securities selection and trading signals provided by Dorsey Wright, an unaffiliated firm.

CAAS UMA Program Accounts

The CAAS UMA Program is a discretionary advisory account program (the "Account"). This means that the Client authorizes the Adviser to buy, sell, or otherwise trade securities or other investments in the Account without discussing the transactions with Client in advance. The securities are limited to open-end mutual funds, SMA Managers in which they have discretion to select individual securities, and exchange-traded funds (“ETFs”). CAAS UMA Accounts are managed in accordance with one of the CAAS UMA Models described below. We generally recommend clients have $1 million in investable assets with CAAS in order to invest in this program. . Due to Manager Availability and Pricing, we access the SMA managers directly through Envestnet.

CAAS UMA Active Conservative • CAAS UMA Active Balanced • CAAS UMA Active Growth • CAAS Hedged Strategy

Advisor as Portfolio Manager Accounts (“APM”)

For a more customized portfolio than those offered in the WealthMark, WealthMark II, WealthBuilder, or CAAS UMA programs, we provide APM models, in which one of our Investment Adviser Representatives (“IARs”) will individually manage the Client’s account. These accounts include individual non-investment vehicle listed securities as well as mutual funds and ETFs, and in suitable circumstances, Fee Based Annuities available through TD Ameritrade. The Client's IAR at times will recommend the use of Level One (covered) option writing if the IAR believes it is appropriate for the Client's needs and is consistent with the Client's tolerance for risk. This investment strategy is described in Item 6 of this Brochure.

The Client account can be managed on a discretionary or a non-discretionary basis. In a discretionary account, we will place trades in the Client account without calling the Client to obtain permission for the specific trades. In a nondiscretionary account, we call to obtain consent for each transaction before we place it with an unaffiliated broker for execution. The investment strategies and securities selections for APM accounts are model driven strategies with investments determined by the Client and the IAR managing the account. Investments selected often differs among similarly managed accounts since client needs and requirements are generally different from each other.

Retirement Plan Services

We provide investment advisory services to companies sponsoring 401(k) plans. We work with plan trustees and the third-party administrators ("TPAs") selected by the plan to recommend and periodically review investment selections to be made available in the plan.

Trustees of 401(k) plans select one or more portfolios we manage as investment options for their participants. 403(b) trustees may provide an option under which plan participants may engage us for personalized investment advice concerning the participants' sub-accounts. In both situations, the participant may select from among several investment models based on various asset classes. We will then instruct the TPA to create a portfolio using the funds available in the plan that correlate to the investment classes in the model portfolio. We will communicate changes in the model portfolios to the various TPAs, who will make the appropriate changes in the participant's holdings.

Trading in WealthMark, WealthMark II, and WealthBuilder Program Accounts, CAAS UMA Program Accounts, and Advisor As Portfolio Manager Accounts

We suggest that Clients invested in WealthMark, WealthMark II, WealthBuilder, CAAS UMA, and APM Accounts execute trades through TD Ameritrade Institutional. CAAS participates in the institutional advisor program offered by TD Ameritrade Institutional. TD Ameritrade Institutional is a division of TD Ameritrade Inc., member FINRA/SIPC, an unaffiliated SEC-registered broker-dealer and FINRA member. TD Ameritrade offers to independent investment advisors services, which include custody of securities, trade execution, clearance, and settlement of transactions. CAAS receives some benefits from TD Ameritrade through its participation in the TD Ameritrade Institutional Program.

We reasonably believe that in the case of managed accounts, TD Ameritrade's blend of execution services, commission, and transaction costs as well as professionalism is consistent with our best execution and fiduciary duty to the Client. We anticipate that most trades will be executed at TD Ameritrade. However, in unusual circumstances, we reserve the right to engage the services of other custodians, for example, to execute transactions in thinly-traded ETFs. In this situation with thinly-traded ETFs, CAAS will absorb the trading costs associated with the use of another custodian.

In addition to using TD Ameritrade as a custodian, CAAS has a relationship with Mid Atlantic Capital Group, Inc. (“Mid Atlantic”) which CAAS uses for situations where TD Ameritrade is not a fit for that particular Client.

Generally, Envestnet will aggregate all Wealthmark, Wealthmark II, and Wealthbuilder model driven orders through their platform for the purchase and sale of securities if aggregation is consistent with achieving best execution for the various Client accounts. Orders are placed with the execution broker through a trade order module which automatically aggregates all Client model driven transactions for the same security in the same direction that is electronically delivered to the broker. All executed transactions are auto-filled directly into the Client’s accounts account at the Client selected custodian. All participating accounts receive the average share price for the transaction and bears a proportionate share of all transaction costs, based on each account’s participation in the transaction, subject to our discretion primarily for individually traded accounts depending on factual or market conditions and the duty to achieve best execution for Client accounts. We may include proprietary or personal accounts in block trades. These proprietary or personal accounts are treated as Client accounts and are given neither preferential nor inferior treatment versus other Client accounts.

Envestnet allocates orders among Client accounts in a fair and equitable manner. Generally, the Client model(s) automatically pre-allocate orders based on style drift and during periodic account rebalancing based on accounts with the same or similar investment objective on a pro rata basis according to the difference between existing holdings and the model recommendations. During times of style drift, the order is automatically generated to bring the Client(s) account(s) back in line with the specific Client selected model. We do not allocate trades on the basis of account performance or the amount or structure of management fees.

However, the following factors will impact the manner in which an allocation to a Client’s accounts deviates either from the model and individually traded accounts that do not participate in an eligible recommendation:

1. an account's existing positions in securities;
2. the cash availability of one or more particular accounts;
3. a partial fill of the block trade;
4. tax reasons.

We receive no additional compensation or remuneration of any kind due to the aggregation of Client trades.

In APM Accounts, trades executed on Envestnet flow directly from the site to the custodian without Envestnet’s intervention. This means that there is a straight flow through of trade instructions placed in Envestnet sent directly to the custodian. Advisors also have the ability to place trades directly with TD Ameritrade using TD Ameritrade's Veo trading tool. Trade information flows back and forth from TD Ameritrade and Envestnet via a data feed.

Additional Disclosures Regarding TD Ameritrade

TD Ameritrade provides certain trading and operational services to the Adviser at no cost, the substantial benefits of which are passed on to Clients. These services include, among others, brokerage, custodial, administrative support, record keeping, and related services that are intended to support intermediaries like the Adviser in conducting business and in serving the best interests of their Clients but that benefit CAAS in the form of administrative support, software, and systems. CAAS receives some benefits from TD Ameritrade through its participation in the Program.

We have negotiated a standard pricing model with TD Ameritrade that is favorable for our Clients based on the fact that we are not a high-volume or tactical trader. However, for accounts using a strategy that requires more active trading in APM accounts, TD Ameritrade may assess transaction charges which we do not have the ability to negotiate (See ADV 2A for more information on the non-wrap program). As disclosed above, CAAS participates in TD Ameritrade's institutional customer program and CAAS recommends TD Ameritrade to Clients for custody and brokerage services. There is no direct link between CAAS' participation in the program and the investment advice it gives to its Clients. Benefits include the following products and services (provided without cost or at a discount): receipt of duplicate Client statements and confirmations; research related products and tools; consulting services; access to a trading desk serving CAAS participants; access to block trading (which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions for execution and then allocate the appropriate shares to Client accounts); the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from Client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for Client order entry and account information; access to mutual funds with no transaction fees and to certain institutional money managers; and discounts on compliance, marketing, research, technology, and practice management products or services provided to CAAS by third party vendors.

The benefits received by CAAS or its personnel through participation in the program does not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to TD Ameritrade. As part of its fiduciary duties to Clients, CAAS endeavors at all times to put the interests of its Clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by CAAS or its related persons in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence CAAS's choice of TD Ameritrade for custody and brokerage services. This potential conflict is addressed by passing through benefits received in the form of Clients receiving brokerage transactions for no commission and other execution related costs where appropriate.

CAAS and TD Ameritrade have entered into a separate agreement ("Additional Services Addendum") to govern the terms of the provision of the Additional Services. Specifically, the Additional Services include financial support used to assist in paying for Envestnet. Provision of Additional Services is at TD Ameritrade's sole discretion. Provision of additional services, most likely, takes into account the amount and profitability of assets to TD Ameritrade. TD Ameritrade retains the right to terminate the Additional Services Addendum at its sole discretion. CAAS utilizes Envestnet for several functions, including trading, proposal generation, reporting functionality, and Client advisory fee billing and collection. This arrangement is not dependent upon CAAS generating a minimum number of transactions or commissions for TD Ameritrade and is used to benefit all CAAS Clients. CAAS also receives from TD Ameritrade certain additional economic benefits (listed throughout this section), known as “Additional Services”, that may or may not be offered to any other independent investment advisors participating in the program.

CAAS’ receipt of Additional Services raises potential conflicts of interest where CAAS may have an incentive to recommend to its Clients that the assets under management by CAAS be held in custody with TD Ameritrade and to place transactions for Client accounts with TD Ameritrade. CAAS’s receipt of Additional Services does not diminish its duty to act in the best interests of its Clients, including seeking best execution of trades for Client accounts. CAAS passes certain benefits to Clients through the provision of services provided and no brokerage transactions charge.

CAAS considers a number of factors in selecting brokers and custodians at which to locate (or recommend location of) its Client accounts, including, but not limited to, execution capability, experience and financial stability, reputation, and the quality of services provided. CAAS performs an analysis of services provided in light of the overall costs that is compared to competitors in the industry as part of its ongoing due diligence of TD.

TD Ameritrade does not supervise CAAS and has no responsibility for CAAS’s management of Client portfolios or CAAS’s other advice or services.

Certain members of CAAS serve on the TD Ameritrade Institutional Client Experience Panel (“Panel”). The Panel consists of approximately thirty (30) independent investment advisors that advise TD Ameritrade Institutional (“TDA Institutional”) on issues relevant to the independent advisor community. The Panel meets in person three times per year and conducts periodic conference calls on an as needed basis. Investment advisors are appointed to serve on the Panel for three-year terms by TDA Institutional senior management.

At times, Panel members are provided confidential information about TDA Institutional initiatives. Panel members are required to sign confidentiality agreements. TD Ameritrade, Inc. (“TD Ameritrade”) does not compensate Panel members. However, TD Ameritrade pays or reimburses Registrant for the travel, lodging, and meal expenses Registrant incurs in attending Panel meetings. The benefits received by Registrant or its personnel by serving on the Panel do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to TD Ameritrade. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by Registrant or its related persons in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence Registrant’s recommendation of TD Ameritrade for custody and brokerage services.

Fees

WealthMark, WealthMark II, and WealthBuilder Program

WealthMark, WealthMark II, and WealthBuilder Program Accounts are offered on a wrap fee basis, in which the Client will pay an annual advisory fee of up to 2.25%. All WealthMark Accounts pay an annual administrative fee of up to .40% to cover costs associated with servicing the Client's account (including costs for technology and miscellaneous costs associated with providing administrative services apart from investment advice, such as processing Client requests for asset transfers, disbursements, portfolio management and trading costs, compliance, and other such administrative matters.) These cost can be higher or lower depending on the type of Client and difficulty in administering the account.

These administrative services are provided by Wealth Advisory Group, an affiliate of CAAS. This presents a conflict of interest which is discussed in more detail in Item 9- Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations below.

WealthMark, WealthMark II, and WealthBuilder Program fees are directly debited from Client's custodial accounts, unless billed directly via invoice.

CAAS UMA Program Accounts

We offer CAAS UMA Program Accounts on a wrap fee basis, in which the Client pays an annual advisory fee of up to 2.25%. All UMA Program Accounts will pay an additional administrative fee of up to .80% to cover costs associated with servicing the Client account (including costs for technology and miscellaneous costs associated with providing administrative services apart from investment advice, such as processing Client requests for asset transfers, disbursements, portfolio management, trading costs, compliance, and other such administrative matters.) These administrative services are provided by Wealth Advisory Group, an affiliate of CAAS. This presents a conflict of interest which is discussed in more detail in Item 9- Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations below. In addition, SMA Managers also charge a quarterly manager fee for use of their SMA products on the Envestnet platform. These fees typically range between 30 to 50 basis points. This fee is paid directly from Envestnet to the SMA Manager, CAAS does not receive any portion of the SMA Manager fee.

We will directly debit the CAAS UMA Program fees from the Client's custodial account, unless we agree to bill the Client directly via invoice.

Advisor As Portfolio Manager Accounts

We offer APM Accounts on a wrap fee basis, in which the fee includes ticket charges (unless waived), or on a fee-only basis, in which case the Client is charged separately for ticket charges (Non-Wrap Program). In either case, we charge an annual advisory fee of up to 2.25% of assets under management. These Accounts will pay an additional annual administrative fee of up to 0.40% to cover costs associated with servicing the Client account (including costs for technology and miscellaneous costs associated with providing administrative services apart from investment advice, such as processing Client requests for asset transfers, disbursements, portfolio management and trading costs, compliance, and other such administrative matters.) These administrative services are provided by Wealth Advisory Group, an affiliate of CAAS. This presents a conflict of interest which is discussed in more detail in Item 9- Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations below. We will directly debit APM Account fees from the Client's custodial account(s), unless we agree to bill the Client directly via invoice.

Additionally, we have the ability to offer certain fee based annuity products to Clients through TD Ameritrade. The annuities are charged an advisor fee of up to 2.25% of assets under management in addition to the fee from the annuity product company that has a relationship with TD Ameritrade. CAAS does not collect an admin fee on these APM Accounts.

Retirement Plan Services

CAAS IARs charge an advisory fee for their services in which CAAS receives a portion of. Additionally, the Third Party Administrator, in most cases, charges an administration fee for use of the platform and the costs of administrating the platform. CAAS does not receive any portion of this fee. There are also no additional ticket charges or commissions received for any Retirement Plan Services through CAAS. Additional Information about our Services and Fees

We generally do not separately offer the services provided under the WealthMark, WealthMark II, WealthBuilder, and CAAS UMA Programs. However, the client may be able to purchase services similar to those offered under the WealthMark, WealthMark II, WealthBuilder, and CAAS UMA Programs from other service providers either separately or as part of a similar wrap fee program. These services or programs may cost more or less than the WealthMark, WealthMark II, WealthBuilder, and CAAS UMA Programs, depending on the fees charged by such other service providers.

As noted above, we offer APM Accounts on a wrap fee basis, in which the fee may include ticket charges, or on a fee-only basis, in which case the client is charged separately for ticket charges. However, the client may be able to purchase similar services from other service providers either separately or as part of a similar wrap fee program. These services or programs may cost more or less than what we charge for APM Accounts, depending on the fees charged by such other service providers.

In evaluating "wrap fee" investment programs, the client should recognize that transactions are usually effected "net", that is, without commission. A portion of the wrap fee is generally considered as being in lieu of commissions. We require that trades be executed through TD Ameritrade, so that we will not engage in the practice of similar investment advisers with larger trading volumes in securities that include general securities (i.e., non-investment vehicles, such as mutual funds) where seeking best execution by placing transactions with other custodians can be achieved. While we anticipate that TD Ameritrade will be able to obtain best execution with respect to mutual funds and ETFs, it is possible that better execution for these and other types of securities may be available through other custodians. Since mutual funds are acquired at their net asset value with no commission on behalf of our Clients, this does not raise the same best execution concerns that generally securities customarily represent.

The Client should also consider that, depending upon the level of the wrap fee we charge, the amount of portfolio activity in the Client account, the value of custodial and other services which are provided under the arrangement, and other factors, the “wrap fee” may or may not exceed the aggregate cost of such services if they were to be provided separately.

Our fees are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds, ETFs, and SMA Managers. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee, other fund expenses, and a possible distribution fee. The Client could invest in a mutual fund or and ETF directly, without our services. In that case, the Client would not receive the services provided by us which are designed, among other things, to assist the Client in determining which mutual fund or funds or ETFs are most appropriate to the Client's financial condition and objectives. Accordingly, the Client should review both the fees charged by the funds, SMA Managers, and ETFs and the fees charged by us to fully understand the total amount of fees the Client is to pay in order to evaluate our advisory services.

The Investment Adviser Representative recommending the WealthMark, WealthMark II, and WealthBuilder Programs to the Client receives compensation as a result of the Client's participation in these Programs.

The Client or we may terminate the agreement with CAAS within five days of the date of acceptance with no penalty. After the five-day period, either party, upon written notice to the other, may terminate the agreement. The Client will receive, where applicable, a prorated refund of any prepaid advisory fees. Such prorated refunds will be based upon actual services and termination costs incurred up to and at the time the assets transfer out of the Client's account. Any earned, unpaid fees will be due and payable upon termination.

Mid Atlantic charges Clients a quarterly fee of .15% of their total assets in order to use their custodial services, which CAAS does not absorb.

We do not charge a performance fee for any Client account we manage.

Mutual Fund/ETF Fees and Separate Managed Account Managers: All fees paid to Capital Asset Advisory Services, LLC for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds, separate managed account managers, and/or ETFs to their shareholders.

These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus, a copy of which is provided to the Client either at the time of purchase or shortly thereafter by the custodian. These fees will generally include a management fee, other fund expenses, and a possible distribution fee. If the fund also imposes sales charges, a Client may pay a front-end load, back-end load or deferred sales charge. Any 12b-1 fee, if assessed, is not paid to or otherwise shared with CAAS. CAAS aims to select mutual funds that do not have 12b-1 fees when appropriate.

Standard Billing Procedure:

Capital Asset Advisory Services bills standard advisory accounts on a quarterly basis, in advance, meaning that the client is billed at the start of the quarter for the next three months of service. The billable value is based off of the last day of the quarter reported on Envestnet, which receives a file from the custodian with the previous day market values. Envestnet calculates fees based off of the number of days in the quarter, rather than splitting the year into fourths. Additionally, Envestnet bills accounts monthly that have been set up after the quarterly billing, and bills/refunds accounts that are opened, closed, or have had signification (Over $50,000) contributions or withdrawals during that time period.

Item 5. Account Requirements and Types of Clients

We recommend a minimum amount of $25,000 per family for WealthMark and WealthMark II portfolios and $15,000 per family for WealthBuilder portfolios. These minimums may be waived at our discretion. Client Assets under CAAS Management minimums for CAAS UMA Program Accounts is $1 million. We do not have account minimums for APM.

The WealthMark, WealthMark II, WealthBuilder Program, CAAS UMA Program, and APM Accounts are available to individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, corporations and other business entities.

Item 6. Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation

We select portfolio managers to support different types of product offerings described in this wrap brochure. At times when we are considering the inclusion of a particular investment suitable for our Clients or to support our model offerings, we also evaluate the investment manager of those products. The different types of portfolio managers we select are independent IARs of unaffiliated brokers/dealer FINRA member firms and investment advisory firms who serve as portfolio managers to support our proprietary Wealthmark and CAAS UMA Models, that are developed, maintained, and monitored by our Investment Committee, in addition to bespoke models that are developed for Clients on a more customized basis. Committee members are selected by a number of criteria including knowledge of investments and experience in the financial industry. All portfolio managers are subject to the oversight and review of CAAS both in the manner in which they discharge their advisory services to Clients and CAAS' compliance program, as more fully described below.

Before bringing on an IAR to CAAS, we perform due diligence on each rep, including an evaluation of their investment style through personal interviews with the Chief Compliance Officer and background checks for any securities related violation and disciplinary action. We also periodically require the completion of a Request for Proposal ("RFP") from our IARs in order to ensure that investment philosophy matches that of CAAS.

In certain circumstances, CAAS allows IARs to allocate Client assets to portfolio managers, as a separate account, who are available through the Envestnet platform – an unaffiliated platform providing operational services to subscribers and access to other investment advisers.

For our proprietary Wealthmark, Wealthmark II, Wealthbuilder, and CAAS UMA portfolios, our Investment Policy Sub Committees, who report to the full Investment Committee, are responsible for selecting portfolio managers of products selected for the Wealthmark Models and for the allocation of Client assets to be managed as separately managed accounts by outside portfolio managers through the CAAS UMA Model. We require an RFP from the outside portfolio managers of all proprietary models as part of our due diligence packet before approving any outside manager. Additionally, we present all of the information gathered on the outside manager and present to our Investment Policy Committee before approval. CAAS has full discretion to approve or remove any manager from both our proprietary models and the Envestnet platform.

The Investment Committee provides oversight by tracking, reviewing, and changing any managers and positions in our models that they deem necessary. Common factors that are used to measure these positions include track record performance, performance against peers, fund cost, and the funds ability to stay within their stated discipline. If any of these positions drifts out of our levels of expectations, our Investment Policy Subcommittees meet with the fund manager to evaluate all aspects of the fund, and make a decision to keep or replace based on a full view of information. The Investment Policy Sub Committees also make the decision on the appropriate weights for each asset class and position within our model portfolios.

We use the following standards in order to calculate portfolio manager performance. We look at percentage rank of the specific product in its respective category for a 12-month period and 3-year period. We also look at the pre-calculated 3-year performance returns with respect to a greater than 90% best-fit index. In evaluating the product that the portfolio manager offers, we also evaluate the manager as a whole by overall industry ranking, while also evaluating them intrinsically to ensure their philosophy matches our Clients' needs and goals.

We utilize MorningStar Analytics to review our performance information and verify accuracy of numbers.

Related persons of CAAS act as portfolio managers for certain of our portfolios in a wrap fee program described in this brochure. Conflicts of interests can arise with respect to a variety of business and other relationships in almost any investment advisory program. In order to address these conflicts of interest, we have developed RIA Compliance policies and procedures designed to monitor and prevent such matters as outside business interests, personal trading conflicts with Clients and the mishandling of Client funds, as examples. Essentially, all related persons serving as portfolio managers are Supervised Persons and employees who are subject to the full extent CAAS' compliance program, adopted to comply with the compliance program Rule 206(7)-7, under the Investment Adviser Act of 1940 (depending on where else this is mentioned, use the adopted or defined name). Upon initial Client setup, all Clients fill out an IPS used to establish their risk tolerance and suitability. Through Envestnet, we are able to monitor each accounts risks related to their overall household risk tolerance. We also monitor IAR trading in order to track trades compared to Client trades. We also screen each of our IARs before starting a relationship with CAAS, and provide periodic branch audits.

Item 7. Client Information Provided to Portfolio Managers

As previously stated in Item 4 of this Brochure, we will assist the Client in determining their investment goals and objectives, risk tolerance, and retirement plan time horizon. Based on this information, we will create an initial portfolio allocation designed to complement the Client's educational, home ownership, and retirement goals and objectives.

The majority of the portfolio managers are IARs of CAAS, which have entered a relationship directly with the Client and CAAS. As part of the initial on boarding process for a Client, the advisor has the Client fill out an Investment Policy Statement ("IPS") which asks for standard Client information including social security number, date of birth, marital status, employment status, among other general information pieces. Additionally, the IPS requests further financial information that the IAR uses in order to develop a financial plan, including annual income, net worth, tax information, investment experience, income requirements, and feelings on investing and the market. The IAR then will combine this information to develop an overall risk score with the help of Risk Software such as Riskalyze, Envestnet, or the CAAS IPS. IARs may request financial statements of CAAS and outside accounts in order to develop a holistic view of the Client's financial situation, which will assist further to develop a suitable financial plan. CAAS IARs also follow up periodically to ensure that this information is up to date and accurate.

For portfolio managers that are not affiliated with CAAS, the Client information provided would be an investable account number and basic details such as current holdings and market value. As our wrap programs are primarily executed through Envestnet, the use of outside portfolio managers limits the Client data that they would receive. Certain outside portfolio managers require information from Clients, such as agreement to their standard terms and conditions, a Client profile or application, and other related documentation. The Client's IAR will work with the Client directly to obtain any outside portfolio manager required documentation.

A Client may impose reasonable restrictions on the management of their account assets being managed on Envestnet, such as the designations of particular securities or types of securities that should not be purchased or that should not be sold if held in the account. The Client should communicate such restrictions to their IAR to ensure that their account is set up properly.

Item 8. Client Contact with Portfolio Managers

We do not impose any restrictions on the Client's ability to contact our firm and our Investment Adviser Representatives. Non-CAAS portfolio managers, including Mutual Funds or SMA Managers, are generally not directly available to Clients. However, our IARs are readily available to address questions or concerns regarding these investments.

Item 9. Additional Information

A. Disciplinary Information

Our firm and our management personnel have no reportable disciplinary events to disclose.

Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Certain of our Investment Adviser Representatives (“IARs”) are registered representatives of Geneos Wealth Management, Inc. (“Geneos”). Geneos is an unaffiliated securities broker-dealer (member of FINRA, SIPC) and are investment adviser registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

In addition, our IARs are also licensed insurance agents. Our IARs receive compensation for their activities as registered representatives or insurance agents.

As registered representatives of Broker-Dealers, our IARs may recommend securities or insurance products offered by the broker-dealer, and receive customary commissions if products are purchased through them. Thus, a conflict of interest exists between the interests of the IARs and those of our advisory Clients, as the representative would be incentivized to recommend products that carry a commission. Our financial planning, 401(k), and non-discretionary Clients, who approve all recommendations and receive conflict disclosures in advance, are under no obligation to purchase products recommended by the IARs. No Client is obligated to place securities transactions or purchase insurance through Geneos.

Geneos receives a fee that is paid by the firm upon receipt of an invoice, in accordance with an arm’s length agreement, to defray the costs for the functions Geneos are required to carry out by FINRA. This fee is not passed to our Clients in the form of increase execution or brokerage charges or imputed as part of our advisory fee.

Our owners are also the owners and officers of Capital Asset Insurance Services, Inc., (“CAIS”) and Wealth Advisory Group Insurance Agency (WAGIA), licensed insurance agency in the State of Michigan. Through CAIS and WAGIA, licensed agents offer insurance products from a variety of product sponsors. Our IARs who are also licensed insurance agents effect transactions in insurance products and earn the standard and customary commissions for these activities. We have Clients who also are Clients of CAIS. Clients may use the insurance agency and agent of their choosing and are under no obligation to use the services of CAIS or of any of its insurance agents for insurance services. Our advisory fees are separate and distinct from any commissions earned by CAIS or WAGIA or its insurance agents for the sale and servicing of insurance products. Our firm and/or its related persons own, wholly or in part, several accounting firms. These firms provide accounting and tax preparation services to advisory Clients for separate and typical compensation. No advisory Client is obligated to use these accounting firms, and no accounting Client is obligated to use our advisory services. The Client should be aware that the receipt of additional compensation by our firm and our management persons or IARs creates a conflict of interest that may impair the objectivity of our firm and these individuals when making advisory recommendations. We endeavor at all times to put the interest of our Clients first as part of our fiduciary duty as a registered investment adviser.

We take the following steps to address these conflicts:

- disclose to Clients the existence of all material conflicts of interest, including the potential for our firm and our employees to earn compensation from advisory Clients in addition to our firm's advisory fees;
- disclose to Clients that they are not obligated to purchase recommended investment products from our employees or affiliated companies;
- collect, maintain and document accurate, complete and relevant Client background information, including the Client's financial goals, objectives and risk tolerance;
- our firm's management conducts regular reviews of each Client account to verify that all recommendations made to a Client are suitable relative to Client risk tolerance;
- require that our employees seek prior approval of any outside employment activity so that we may ensure that any conflicts of interests in such activities are properly addressed;
- periodically monitor these outside employment activities to verify that any conflicts of interest continue to be properly addressed by our firm; and
- educate our employees regarding the responsibilities of a fiduciary, including the need for having a reasonable and independent basis for the investment advice provided to Clients.

Certain of CAAS' owners are also the owners of Wealth Advisory Group ("WAG"). WAG provides administrative and compliance services to CAAS and its affiliates that include the following:

- Providing the Chief Compliance Officer for CAAS, the investment adviser;
- Implementing and Administering Compliance program for CAAS;
- Compliance assistance to all CAAS investment adviser representatives;
- Portfolio management;
- Trading Wealthmark Tactical in addition to a small amount of other models;
- Paying salary for Portfolio Manager for Optimark;
- Identifying and screening individuals for employment as investment adviser representatives;
- Payroll, accounting, bill-paying and other back-office services;
- Providing staff to assist in the above functions.

WAG does not provide investment advice.

This arrangement presents a conflict of interest since CAAS's affiliated entity WAG receives fees for the services they provide, which in turn compensates the shared owners for being the Client's investment adviser and performing the administrative and compliance functions. This gives CAAS an incentive to use WAG for these services since they share in the revenue generated.

We take the following steps to address this conflict:

- disclose to Clients the existence of all material conflicts of interest, including the potential for our firm and our employees to earn compensation from advisory Clients in addition to revenue from WAG's services;
- disclose to Clients that they are not obligated to purchase recommended investment products from our employees or affiliated companies.
